Anita Baldwin Real Booster Of Bay Region

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—Mrs. Anita M. Baldwin, daughter of the late E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin, millionaire horseman and theater magnate, is a real booster for the bay region. Not only has she come to San Francisco to assemble her summer wardrobe from a trip to Paris, but she has announced that only business interests holds her to the southern part of the state.

Shopping in San Francisco is far more satisfactory than shopping in Paris, according to Mrs. Baldwin, who was tempted in the French capital by only two sumptuous dresses. She is up to date here and in complete with Parisian models, she declares.

The closer I came to California the shorter became the skirt," Mrs. Baldwin comments. The Paris and even the New York skirts are longer, she notes.

"Heat and sunlight of the south make women want their fashions and runs the texture of their skin," while San Francisco fog preserves their good looks," she contrasts.

"The south is 'sleepy,' San Francisco has a tendency to inspire one's ambitions. I feel as if I belonged to San Francisco."

ARBUCKLE'S TRIAL IS SET FOR NOV. 7; PLEA 'NOT GUILTY'

Court Declines To Give Defense More Time To Perfect Its Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—November 7 was fixed by Superior Judge Harold Louderback today as the date for the trial of Rossie Arbuckle for manslaughter following the death of Virginia Rappe as the culmination of the actor's party at the St. Francis hotel on Labor day.

Arbuckle pleaded not guilty and the prosecution asked for the trial October 31. The defense insisted on the middle of November and District Attorney Brady finally agreed to November 7, which was fixed by the court over the objection of the defense.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon Arbuckle faces the United States commissioner in connection with a charge of violating the prohibition law growing out of the liquor alleged to have been served at the party.

Called upon to plead Arbuckle answered in tones that could be heard throughout the courtroom, "My plea is not guilty."

Assistant District Attorney Milton Ulen immediately asked for the trial October 11. Thereupon Attorney Brennan argued for more time. We will be very much embarrassed by being forced to proceed so quickly," he said. "I desire to inform the court that it will be necessary to take depositions not alone in California but in other parts of the United States. The defendant was arrested September 10 and we have been in court almost ever since. We desire time to organize our case."

Ulen battled for his date, finally declaring that Judge Brady had said he was willing to let it go until November 7, but not later. Judge Louderback finally set that time, intimating that in an emergency he might grant a further continuance to either prosecution or defense. The indictment against Arbuckle on the identical charge was continued until the same day. Arbuckle looked robust and well. He smiled and chatted freely with every one who spoke to him. If you see it in The TRIBUNE tell them so.

dozen other well known fraternal orders, the consecrated churchman and a God-fearing citizen and patriot, he is as incapable of an unworthy, unpatriotic motive, word or deed, as the chairman of this committee, the ruler of the house of representatives or the president of the United States.

Representative Upshaw added that the imperial wizard is his "personal friend" as a constituent. Simmons came forward slowly. He was invited to take the witness chair, but declined, saying he was accustomed to speaking on his feet. He began by declaring he was very ill, suffering from laryngitis, bronchitis, and threatened with pneumonia. He said:

"I know I don't look ill, but I am an Irishman and one of those men who would even be a handsome corpse."

Chairman Campbell told Simmons that he felt it his duty to warn him that anything he said in the committee would be used against him in any federal action. Campbell said:

"Anything you may say voluntarily or under examination by members of the committee may be used by the authorities in any action that may result. I assume that perhaps your attorney has advised you of this."

Simmons continued his recital of his illness, describing his symptoms and warning the committee he might fall into a coughing fit at any moment. He described himself as William Joseph Simmons, residing in Atlanta, Ga. "They call me colonel largely out of respect, because every lawyer in Georgia is called 'colonel,'" he said. He proceeded with a great detailed description of himself.

The "colonel" said he was a super-churchman, being a member of two denominations, the Congregational and Missionary Baptist. He said he was a Mason, Royal Arch Mason, Knight Templar, and "I have been a fraternalist ever since my academy days." He said he was devoted to the "brotherhood of man." He then read from a printed statement.

He told of the organization of the Ku Klux Klan December 14, 1915, and how after he had built it up one of his trusted officers embezzled all the funds of the Klan, leaving him penniless and living for a time on one meal a day. The embezzler, "Klanman," he said, went into another state and set up a rival organization to the Klan. He said it was a hard struggle to recover, but "I have fought a good fight and I have pursued the fight as God gives me vision to see it."

"In the last six years I have received altogether $12,000 from the Klan, an average of less than $2000 a year. For two or three years I received nothing," he said.

Regarding this home in Atlanta, which it was shown yesterday is in the name of Edward Young Clarke, imperial kleagle and partner of Mrs. Elizabeth Tyler in the Southern Publicity Association, he explained: "I have also a home purchased by Klan members by voluntary subscriptions of 25 cents, 50 cents and $1. This home is not completely paid for and I knew nothing of this until it was given to me as a complete surprise as a birthday remembrance on May 6 last, by members of the Klan from every section of the country."

"My information is that the house is in the hands of a board of trustees. They tell me that when the home is sold for the deed will be made over to me. They told me 'We do not want you to bother with it until then.'"

Capital Mourns Sudden Death of U. S. Senator Knox of Pennsylvania

Funeral To Be Held At Washington; Burial At Valley Forge, Pa.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Official Washington mourned today the death of Philander C. Knox, senator from Pennsylvania, who died last night suddenly from a stroke of paralysis. From all quarters, executive, legislative, judicial, and diplomatic, came expressions of regret at the passing of a notable figure in domestic and world affairs. The capital flags were placed at half mast. The senate met at 11 o'clock and adjourned until 11 a. m. Friday, out of respect to the distinguished Pennsylvanian.

Funeral arrangements completed today provided for services here and at the late senator's home in Valley Forge, Pa. Services will be held here at 11 o'clock tomorrow at St. John's Episcopal church, with President Harding, cabinet members, senators and representatives and others prominent in political and social life in attendance.

Members of the Senate foreign relations committee, of which Senator Knox had a leading place, are to be honorary pallbearers.

BURIAL AT HOME.

After tomorrow's services, the body will be taken to Valley Forge to rest Friday night in the book room of the senator's country home there. Services will be held in Valley Forge Memorial Chapel Saturday at 2:30 p. m. The body will be interred in the chapel where President Harding spoke last summer during a week-end visit at the Knox home.

Senator Knox was stricken suddenly last evening as he was about to enter the dining room of his residence on K street for dinner. He suffered a stroke of apoplexy and died within 15 minutes without regaining consciousness. Mrs. Knox and his secretary, W. F. Martin, were with him at the time.

Senator Knox returned to the United States on Saturday aboard the Celtic after several weeks spent in England. Accompanied by Mrs. Knox, he had motored through Southern England for a brief vacation. He had refrained studiously from political discussions and public appearances, although numerous invitations were extended by British leaders.

WORKS AT CAPITOL.

On his arrival in New York Senator Knox had complained of feeling tired. In spite of that he insisted on coming to Washington for a day or two before going to his home at Valley Forge, Pa. He was in the senate on Tuesday and Wednesday. He told Martin he felt much better. He was at the Capitol from 11 o'clock yesterday morning until 5:15 o'clock in the afternoon.

Senator Knox was in such good spirits on leaving the Capitol he insisted on an automobile ride along the Potomac Park roadway, the national capital's government drive on the banks of the river. He was accompanied by his secretary, who drove with him to the Knox home.

BUYS THEATER TICKETS.

The senator declared he felt so well he desired to attend a theater and he stopped to purchase tickets. Arriving at home Senator Knox told Mrs. Knox of his intention to attend the theater and asked her to accompany him. He then went to his room, where he dressed for dinner, repairing afterward to the family library.

When Mrs. Knox came to call him to dinner the senator rose from his desk and started to follow her from the room. He had taken but a few steps when he collapsed suddenly and sank to the floor.

DEATH COMES QUICKLY.

Mrs. Knox called to Secretary Martin in an adjoining room, who rushed from the house to the home of Dr. Samuel Adams nearby, the family physician. Before Dr. Adams could reach Senator Knox's side the senator was dead.

One of the first to reach the senator's home after his death was his son, Philander C. Knox Jr., who resides in Washington. His other sons, Reed, Hugh S., and a daughter, Mrs. J. R. Thindall, all of Valley Forge, Pa., arrived here early this morning.

Had Long Career as Statesman, Diplomat

Senator Philander C. Knox, statesman, father of "dollar diplomacy," noted his skill in corporation law which he devoted to public service after he entered public life, was born in Brownsville, Pa., May 6, 1853. He was graduated from Mount Union college in Ohio in 1872, was admitted to the bar in 1875, was appointed by President Grant as assistant United States attorney for western Pennsylvania, resigned in 1877, and with James H. Reed formed the law firm of Knox & Reed. His practices brought him wealth.

In 1901 President McKinley appointed Knox attorney general and the appointment brought a storm of criticism from the opposition as the placing in official position of "a friend of the trusts." Knox had been identified with many great corporations as counsel.

As attorney general, Knox established a record for the number of prosecutions against trusts and combinations in restraint of trade and the vigor with which they were pushed.

PROSECUTES TRUSTS.

He brought numerous successful actions against railroads for rebating and discrimination. He forced the dissolving of the Northern Securities company, organized to combine the Northern Pacific and Great Northern.

In 1902 Knox charged the seven big beef corporations with restraint in trade, obtained permanent injunctions against them and they were ordered to dissolve.

Under President Roosevelt Knox led the fight to extend the laws to prevent rebating and restraint of trade by railroads, and at one time instituted actions against fourteen of them. He was credited with being one of the pioneers for restraint of the trusts. He declared they had their usefulness, but that overcapitalization, lack of publicity, tendency to monopoly and failure to recognize their duty to the public made it necessary to curb them sternly.

President, Cabinet Members,
Statesmen To Pay

APPOINTED TO SENATE.

Knox went to Paris and carried through the negotiations by which the United States bought title to the Panama canal from the old French company.

In 1904 Knox resigned to accept appointment as United States senator to succeed the late Matthew Quay, but later became secretary of state under President Harding. There he inaugurated an active policy to aid the extension of trade with foreign countries. It was at this time that the phrase "dollar diplomacy" was coined in criticism of Knox's policy, but he declared he was proud of the designation and that events would prove it a patriotic policy.

Knox proposed the arbitral court at the Hague, worked to have the Manchurian railroad nationalized and approved the plan for the Central American court of justice to maintain peace in Central America.

RECORD IN CABINET.

One of the outstanding events of his career as secretary of state was the dispute with Great Britain over the proposal to exempt American coastwise shipping from payment of Panama canal tolls. Opposition to the proposal buried it for a time. Within the week the senate passed a resolution providing for just what Knox demanded years ago. It is not expected to come up in the house until after the disarmament conference.

Knox became an outstanding international figure in the league of nations fight, when he was one of the leaders of the opposition.

No man in the controversy, with the possible exceptions of President Wilson and Senator Lodge, were more loudly praised and vigorously denounced.

Knox's opposition to the league of nations was voiced even before the document was drawn. He delivered an address in the senate demanding that the league of nations be separated from the peace treaty and negotiated separately.

He presented a resolution to this effect and opposed appointment of American members of the reparations commission. He drafted the resolution for adopting the treaty with reservations, which attracted world-wide attention.

He was the author of the resolution declaring a separate peace with Germany. This was passed, but was vetoed by President Wilson.

Knox Death Loss to Nation, Says Harding

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—President Harding, commenting on the sudden death of Senator Knox, said today:

"The shockingly sudden death of Senator Knox brings a very great loss to the country. His was a distinctly high place among the foremost statesmen of America. And he was no less beloved as a companion than he was respected in his signal public service."

EMPLOYEES OF KAHN'S START DAY WITH SONG

"Start the day with a song" is the motto of the Kahn Employees Association, who listen every Thursday morning to a musical program before beginning their duties for the day. The program is rendered usually by local talent, and occasionally by professional talent. Today's program was furnished by Mrs. G. Hoffman and P. Beiton, of Kahn's, and S. Query, violinist, of the T. and D. orchestra.

The practice of holding a song fest and musical program for twenty minutes, starting at 8:40, was begun during the war.

Filipino Secretaries Send Resignations

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 13.—All department secretaries of the Philippine government have submitted their resignations. Their purpose, they stated, was to give Major General Wood a free hand in selecting his cabinet when he becomes governor-general of the islands next Saturday.

WHIPPING POST IS REVIVED FOR BRUTAL ROBBERS

KINGSTON, Ont., Oct. 13.—Forty lashes on the bare back is part of the punishment awaiting two prisoners brought to the provincial penitentiary here to serve ten-year terms. They are Louis Morin, 33 years old, and Walter Goodchild, 24, both of Amherstburg, convicted of cruelly beating an old farmer while robbing his house.

The revival of the whipping post at the penitentiary is due to the operation of an amendment to the criminal code enacted last year authorizing judges to order applications of the cat-o-nine-tails in cases where victims of assault and robbery are subjected to cruel treatment.

Filipino Officials Ousted From Office

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 13.—Summary removal from office of five officials of the town of Guimba, province of Nueva Ecija, was announced by Acting Governor-General Charles E. Yeater. One of the officials dismissed was the president of the town. They had been convicted of persecuting Carlos Domingo, a member of the Democratic party. The officials are all members of the Nacionalista party, which is dominant throughout the Philippines.

"It is beyond understanding that such persecutions could have been committed by public officials, who not only denied Domingo justice, but inflicted numerous injustices upon him," Gov. Yeater declared in announcing his decision.

STAGES WARNED TO OBSERVE LAW

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 13.—In a statement made public last night, Director C. J. Chenu of the State Motor Vehicle Department warned operators of stage lines in the State to take drastic action to halt speeding and other infractions of the motor vehicle act by stage drivers.

Chenu declared he had issued special instructions to deputies to bring stage drivers to task when they fail to comply with the law's provisions. The motor vehicle superintendent also dispatched a special warning to the California Transit Company, informing officials of the company that unless it observes the law in the future, court action will follow. A driver of the transit company, when arrested on a charge of speeding recently, stated that he was forced to exceed the limit to maintain schedules, according to Chenu. Chenu's statement says: "Auto stage drivers are notified that they must comply with the law, regardless of schedules or company orders."

Stage companies are no more exempt from the law than private parties.

Felix Adler and Frances A. Ross will offer a melange of interesting features under the title of "Potpourri of Everything You Like."

Cliff Thompson will be the "chugging" friend, and Albert Van Antwerp will be the other. George Taylor, Bar-San, Lee Marie Walcott, Helen Audiffred and George Rand make up the cast. "Marry the Poor Girl" will be in excellent hands.

"This Week Jane Cow's masterpiece, 'The Song Bird' is proving a sensation."

T. & D.

"Way Down East" will be continued for the balance of the week at the T. & D. theater, but will be withdrawn Saturday. Lillian, Gladys, Richard Barthelmess and Lowell Sherman head the cast.

The story of Anna, her spurious marriage, the baptism of her dying child, her rescue from the ice pack and the birth of the first all-Gritland incident in an action that alternately teems with thrills and heart-break. The starting time of the program is 1, 2:15, 8 and 9:15.

NEW FRANKLIN

Cecil B. DeMille's "The Affairs of Cell" continues to draw record crowds, despite the fact that this is its third week at the New Franklin theater. Harold Lloyd, the comedy king, provides laughs on the bill.

Wallace Reid leads the cast of fourteen stars in "Anatol," playing the title role—that of a good looking young chap whose love life is a comedy. He has scores of innocent affairs with every pretty girl to cross his path, provide a conflict of dramatic situations.

Besides Reid, the cast includes Gloria Swanson, Bobbie Danvers, Hawley Kershaw, Charles K. Williams, Robert Hutton, Elliott Dexter, Monte Blue and Theodore Kosloff.

ARCADIA

Much interest is being shown by dancing enthusiasts in the first one-step contest at the Arcadia Dancing pavilion this evening. Twenty-five couples have entered so far for the cash prizes offered and more are expected before the competition starts. The contest will be a test of speed and endurance and will be in the nature of an elimination affair, as the winning couple will be the last to remain in regular step and within the rules of dance. Professor Irving Perkins and his "Jazzers" continue to please the patrons of Arcadia.

AUDITORIUM

Music interest of the present week is centered in the "Pop" orchestral concert and carous celebration, Thursday night in the Oakland Municipal auditorium arena by Paul Steinhardt's 50-piece orchestra, assisted by Myrtle Cliffie Donnelly soprano soloist. The concert will be the first of a series of fall and winter Thursday night "Pop" concert series, with aggregation in the Oakland auditorium.

Caruso's golden voice will be brought into the program through phonograph records played upon a large instrument and accompanied by the full orchestra.

BROADWAY

"Evangeline" will be the headline of the screen program at the New Broadway today and tomorrow. "You Find It Everywhere," the five-reel feature of love and romance starring Catherine Calvert and Robert Livingston, is offered on the same program.

The cast includes Macey Harlan, Arnold Lucy, Riley Hatch, as well as Hattie Delore and Dora Mills Adams, both of whom have legends of following the "Pop" orchestra.

The Booth Tarkington-Harry Leon Wilson story, there is no doubt but what the picture will please when seen on the screen.

LOEW'S STATE

He presents his company in a different kind of an "escape" act, in which he makes his getaway from handcuffs and other devices supposed to hold a human. Conway Tearle, Henry Clive, Anna Q. Nilsson and other stars of the silver screen are in the cast.

STRAND

Should an innocent man who has been sent to prison on circumstantial evidence seek escape or should he resign himself to fate and serve the term? This is the question that confronts Thomas Meighan, in his latest picture, "The City of Silent Men," which is being shown at the Strand theater. The picture is a gripping story of a man's life, and is attracting crowds to the theater.

A Prohibition Monkey, one of the famous Joe Martin monkey comedies and a Pathe review complete the program.

Special added attraction, Friday and Saturday nights only: Miss Daisy Watts' clever singing and dancing kiddies.

OAKLAND TO BE BIG TRADE PORT, SAYS SPEAKER

No City in World Situated So Advantageously, Declares MacLafferty.

If every citizen will concentrate as much individual interest and endeavor in public welfare matters as he does in his business or profession, certain evils now menacing this nation will be eliminated speedily and permanently, in the opinion of J. H. MacLafferty, local insurance operator, who addressed the Progressive Business Club at its weekly luncheon at the Hotel Oakland yesterday.

"There is something the matter with us," MacLafferty charged, "because we are slow to appreciate the advantages of our location. We are not realizing that we have the certainty of being the biggest trade outlet and port on the western fringe of the continent."

The speaker stressed what he termed was the "general indifference to the fact that we are a resident of this city by quoting a Los Angeles business man as saying that if the southern city possessed Lake Merritt, the "whole world would be hearing about it."

MacLafferty commented briefly on the proposed bay bridge project, asserting that if it is planned to erect a bridge directly connecting this city with San Francisco, Oakland should co-operate fully, but that if it will result in a bridge which will have one terminal at Central Avenue and High Streets in Alameda this city "should not be expected to contribute a cent, as it will mean the diversion from Oakland of the vast tide of commerce and trade from the interior points."

The laugh-producing comedy, "Koo Koo Klam," and the feature picture, "Black Roses," with Sessie Hayward, are drawing crowds to the Columbia theater this week.

Frank Darlow, Solly Carter and Edward Gilbert, the co-stars of the aggregation, have been approved by the Empire Service League at its meeting in South Africa and will call for adequate defense in the empire but with the understanding that armaments should not be built up for offensive purposes.

VETERAN BUILDS PARK TO HEAR CHILDREN PLAY

MEDWAY, Mass., Oct. 13.—Elmer L. Vidotto, a veteran of the Civil War, crippled and partly blind, has laid out a playground near his home here so that he may listen to the voices of children.

For years Vidotto visited the schools and told the pupils war stories. When after the most recent of several accidents he was obliged to give up active work as a stone mason he conceived the idea of building a park to hear the voices of children and across the street from his home and although the infirmities of 75 years, and his injuries made the work slow, he cleared away the underbrush and built seats, swings and sliding boards for his child friends.

Here the children gather each day, while Vidotto sits on the veranda of his home or mingles with them to tell again the stories they love to hear.

NEW ZEALAND IS THEME OF TALK

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—Business and other conditions in New Zealand provided the subject matter for a talk given last night before the Foreign Trade club in the Merchants' Exchange building by C. W. McMoran, deputy collector of internal revenue. The speaker declared that if the New Zealanders knew our trade marts better there would be a greater volume of business between New Zealand and America, as they are always on the alert for American goods. The speaker declared, "in part:

"New Zealanders and Australian troops immortalized their arms and acquitted themselves heroically in the world war. Let me refer to the after-war status of New Zealand and Australia as these two countries are to sit this month in the world's conference at Washington, D. C., for disarmament. As there is so much appearing in the public press regarding Japan's activities and purposes, and as I have spoken to several meetings last fall touching on the Japanese menace as applied to California, I feel that it is but just in addressing a California audience to add that we have in Washington, as our president and commander-in-chief of the army and navy, the clear-headed, quiet thinking, cautious and powerful executive, Warren G. Harding, who is taking into consideration with Secretary of State Hughes, these situations which must be dealt with as touching New Zealand and Australia's safety at a time when the military power of Japan, which seems at the present time, to be controlling Japan."

He said in conclusion that he believes it is the utmost thought of Prime Minister Massey of New Zealand and of Australian statesmen, that America's Pacific fleet is so strong that New Zealand and Australia will have strong protection from America in whom they have unalterable trust.

CANADIANS PLAN AID FOR FIGHTERS

OTTAWA, Oct. 13.—The annual convention of the Great War Veterans' Association, which will be held at Port Arthur, Ont., October 17 to 22, will endeavor to find means to reduce the unemployment situation among former Canadian soldiers and sailors.

The association is understood to regard unemployment as the most pressing economic problem. It is expected that the convention will appoint a special committee composed of one member from each province to draw up resolutions on that subject.

The question of amalgamating all the soldiers' organizations in Canada will be brought before the convention. Representatives of other associations of ex-service men have been invited to attend in discussing that problem.

The convention is expected to take steps to urge the Dominion Parliament to establish all ex-service men so far as possible in the economic position which they would have obtained but for their war service. It is likely also that the war veterans will seek legislation to extend their housing loan to ex-service men.

Resolutions on limitation of armaments will be submitted. It is indicated that these will be along the lines of those approved by the British Empire Service League at its meeting in South Africa and will call for adequate defense in the empire but with the understanding that armaments should not be built up for offensive purposes.

Do You Look Forward To a Good Night's Rest?

Do you regularly anticipate a refreshing sleep? Or do you dread going to bed, only to stare, sleepless, at the walls? The difference between sleeping and staring is simply a matter of nerves.

When your nervous system is in a sound condition, you are certain to sleep well. But when your nerves are worn out and beyond your control, your rest is broken and your awakening leaves you languid and irritable.

Doctors know that much of the nerve disorders result from tea and coffee drinking. The drugs in these drinks over-stimulate, often causing the serious ills which result from disturbing the regular bodily functions. It is for your health's sake that many doctors now say you should quit tea and coffee. Drink Postum, the delicious meal-time beverage instead! In flavor it is much like coffee.

Postum is fundamentally a nerve strengthener because it lets you get sound, restful sleep. Postum is a skillfully-made cereal beverage, and the secret of its popularity is its protection to health and its delicious flavor.

Ask your grocer for Postum. Drink this hot, refreshing beverage in place of tea or coffee for 10 days and see what a wonderful difference it will make in the way you feel.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

Nine Hundred Pupils Answer Dentists' Call

Durant school numbers about 1100. Recently the school authorities requested that their parents be asked if they desired the students to have their teeth cared for by the school clinics. To the surprise of everyone, 900 parents signed acquiescence and 900 young hopefuls appeared for treatment.

The three traveling dental chairs, set up on small autos, made haste to the school. Extra chairs were mobilized. The dentists sharpened their saws, gimlets, files, picks, probes and buzzers, and extra dentists have been engaged to handle the overflow. Never, it is said, has such a rush of business come from any one school.

They are still at it. The merry clang of the dentists' hardware resounds throughout the whole happy day, punctuated by loud exclamations from various children who are having their teeth improved.

AERO FORCES ON PACIFIC RAISED TO 7 SQUADRONS

Atlantic Strength Reduced in Readjustment of Navy's Flying Units.

The air forces of the United States navy on the Pacific coast are to be strengthened to seven complete aero squadrons, according to an announcement from twelfth naval district headquarters. The increase in the air forces of this coast comes as the result of a readjustment of the air forces of the United States navy. The order calls for the reduction of the Atlantic air forces to three aero squadrons and the abandonment of the naval air station at Lakehurst, N. J.

The air forces of the navy, under the new arrangement, will be distributed as follows:

Atlantic Fleet—Scouting squadron No. 2; torpedo plans squadron No. 1; kite balloon squadron No. 1.

Pacific Fleet—Seaplane squadron No. 1; combat squadron (L type) No. 1; combat squadron No. 3; combat squadron No. 4; spotting squadron (L type) No. 1; spotting squadron No. 3; spotting squadron No. 4.

The U. S. S. Shavmouth will act as mother ship to the Atlantic planes temporarily, after which it is understood the craft will be transferred to the Pacific. She will be relieved by the aircraft tender Wright, now under construction.

The U. S. S. Arconostok will act as mother ship to the Pacific air craft, and will be commanded by Captain H. V. Bennett, Lieutenant Commander Patrick N. L. Bellinger, head of the flight division, will take over the duties of chief of staff of the Pacific air fleet squadron.

With the transfer of a majority of the naval air forces to the Pacific, opinion was stronger today than ever before among naval experts that the Alameda naval base will soon be a reality.

Two Beauties Send Charlie Across Seas

The exact reason Charlie Chaplin went to Europe has been guessed. It is this, say, 95 per cent, of getting married again, and the question which he went to England to think over is whether he shall marry Claire Windsor, blonde and beautiful, or May Collins, brunette and ditto.

One of the two beautiful picture stars holds the key to Charlie's heart, but which one? That is the question Charlie is endeavoring to be wrestling with at the present moment. It wouldn't be difficult for most men to make this decision.

According to a report from Los Angeles, Miss Collins said when the affair was mentioned to her: "There really isn't anything definite."

"He's human and so am I. He may change his mind and so may I. So I don't know."

And Miss Windsor, just preparing to attend a preview of her latest picture, the musical theater, "I can't answer, honestly."

"There's never been anything serious between us—anything really deeply honest serious, I mean."

"But he's not divorced yet, you know, and—' with a long long pause—'I'm not sure whether I am."

GRAEF PLEASES LARGE AUDIENCE

By ROY HARRISON DANFORTH.

Henry F. Graef, a local baritone, appeared in a concert evening at the Elks hall, an audience apparently composed in large measure of his friends, and which almost filled the auditorium, heard him and applauded. He was accompanied by Miss Elsie Eilensen, pianist, and Miss Clara-Bella L. Hamilton, a danseuse, whose music was played by Miss Emma Akers.

A group of modern semi-classics, another of German lieder and a fourth mixed group were sung by Graef. Those in which he essayed a softer delivery were the most admirable. In the others, forcedness both in breath and in phrasing and accentuation somewhat marred his singing, though this may have been the corollary of the fact that this was his first public recital. His choice of songs was good.

The discovery of the evening for many who attended was Luna Reyes. He is a very young lad, immature, inexperienced, but there is much promise in his clean-cut technique, his suavity of style and the richness and roundness of his tone. The boy takes his music seriously, and there is every reason for his doing so. I do not know who is teaching him, but there is mettle here that any instructor would love to encourage.

Miss Eilensen played the Mendelssohn "Rondo Capriccioso" deftly but with little dynamic gradation. Her accompaniments were of a better sort. Miss Hamilton's several appearances were an interesting diversion. She has learned the elements of her art well, and already gives hint of an individuality that deserves development.

AD. CLUB PLANS 'NEWSPAPER DAY' AT NEXT LUNCH

Boston Publisher and Bureau Director Will Speak At Monday Meeting.

What newspaper advertising really means to wholesaler, jobber, manufacturer and retailer, and its real value will be set forth in two informative addresses before the Oakland Advertising club's luncheon next Monday at the Hotel Oakland, main dining room.

The speakers will be William A. Thompson, director of the bureau of advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, and William F. Rogers, publisher of the Boston Transcript, who is equipped with an abundance of advertising experience that should be of special interest to every manufacturer and retailer.

The regular luncheon date, which would fall on Tuesday, has been changed to Monday to accommodate the speakers. This day has been designated "newspaper day," and to care for the large attendance that is expected it has been arranged to stage the affair in the main dining hall. Reservations are now being made with the club's secretary, Chas. H. Chase.

A program of vocal and instrumental music has also been arranged for the special occasion. Many out-of-town visitors are expected.

The Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, of which Thompson is director, is an organization designed to promote newspaper advertising. An office is being established in San Francisco, which occasions the visit of these two advertising experts to the Pacific Coast.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE LIFE

A Dangerous Period Through Which Every Woman Must Pass

Practical Suggestions Given by the Women Whose Letters Follow

Atton, Tenn.—"I want other suffering women to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. During the Change of Life I was in bed for eight months and had two good doctors treating me but they did me no good. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and in a short time I felt better. I had all kinds of bad spells, but they all left me. Now when I feel weak and nervous I take the Vegetable Compound and it always does me good. I wish all women would try it during the Change of Life for I know it will do them good. If you think it will induce some one to try the Vegetable Compound you may publish this letter."—Mrs. A. KELLER, Atton, Tenn.

Mrs. Mary Lister of Adrian, Mich., adds her testimony to the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to carry women safely through the Change of Life. She says: "It is with pleasure that I write to you for what your wonderful medicine has done for me. I was passing through the Change of Life and had a displacement and weakness so that I could not stand on my feet and other annoying symptoms. A friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the first bottle helped me, so I got more. It cured me and I am now doing my housework. Your medicine is certainly woman's friend and you may use this testimonial as you choose."—Mrs. MARY LISTER, 608 Frank Street, Adrian, Mich.

It is said that middle age is the most trying period in a woman's life, and owing to modern methods of living not one woman in a thousand passes through this perfectly natural change without experiencing very annoying symptoms. These smothering spells, the dreadful hot flashes that send the blood rushing to the head until it seems as though it would burst, and the faint feeling that follows, as if the heart were going to stop, those sinking or dizzy spells are all symptoms of a nervous condition, and indicate the need for a special medicine.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a root and herb medicine especially adapted to act upon the feminine system. It acts in such a manner as to build up the weakened nervous system and enables a woman to pass this trying period with the least possible annoying symptoms.

Women everywhere should remember that most of the common ailments of women are not the surgical ones—they are not caused by serious displacements or growths, although the symptoms may be the same, and that is why so many apparently serious ailments readily yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it acts as a natural restorative and often prevents serious troubles.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

Conditions in Near East To Be Recited

Sunday at the morning and evening services of several of the Eastbay churches, United States Commissioners for Relief in the Near East, but recently returned from a survey of the famine-stricken areas of Asia Minor, are to report their findings. These include Dr. John W. Mace, field secretary Near East Relief; Dr. E. Guy Talbot of Pasadena and Dr. William McGree.

The assignments for the day are: Berkeley—First Presbyterian, 11 a. m., Dr. Mace; Northbrae Congregational, 11 a. m., Dr. McGree. Alameda—First Congregational, 7:30 p. m., Dr. Mace; Central Methodist Episcopal, 8 p. m., Dr. Talbot; First Baptist, 7:30 p. m., Frank R. Buckalov, executive secretary Northern California-Nevada-Honolulu Near East Relief.

During their trip overseas the United States Commissioners visited ten countries, including Greece, Turkey, Georgia and Armenia in the Russian Caucasus.

At Constantinople, the commissioners found Mrs. Margaret Emerich of Berkeley, whose husband died of typhus. Mrs. Emerich is in charge of the work of feeding and caring for over 5000 children. At Alexandria, on the border between old Russia and Turkey, the immensity of the work undertaken by Near East Relief is, according to the commissioners, most painfully apparent.

At the same point, 2000 children are reported as charges in hospitals, and there is that L. Ray Ogden, of Oakland, is in charge of 5000 boys.

Man Is Identified As Check Passer

Victor Gluck was today identified in the city prison in San Francisco by J. P. Rich, a bond broker, as the man who gave him a furtive check for $1775 for the purchase of $1600 worth of Liberty Bonds.

On April 28 Gluck is alleged to have called at the office of Rich at 1130 Broadway and introduced himself as a man who had a furtive check for $1775 for the purchase of $1600 worth of Liberty Bonds. When told by the broker that he had the bonds he left the office and returned within a few minutes with a certified check for the amount.

He was given the bonds, says Rich, and was to return the following day for the balance of the money, which amounted to $1775. The check, which was drawn on the Bank of Italy was returned to Rich marked no funds and that the check was fictitious.

He is being held in San Francisco on three separate charges of passing fictitious checks. In San Francisco he is also known under the name of Hillman.

Partisan Politics Barred By Center

By EDNA B. KINARD.

Partisan politics are forbidden in Oakland Center, California Civic League of Women Voters. Members are being warned by the board of directors, headed by Mrs. F. H. Roren, to exercise their rights as American citizens as private individuals and not as members of the center. Definite declaration of principles and action is made in the following statement issued after an important board conference this week:

It is not the policy of Oakland center to restrict the political privileges of any of its members for it urges all women to exercise their privileges as American citizens. It does insist, however, that they exercise these rights as private individuals and not as members of Oakland center.

"If any member of Oakland Center feels that she is being hampered in her political activities by membership in Oakland center, the center will graciously accept her resignation. Officers and chairmen are in honor bound to resign their duties in the center if at any time they engage in partisan politics. Furthermore, Oakland Civic Center will not permit the use of any of its equipment for political purposes. This means the use of stationery, telephone, headquarters or clubrooms for the circulating of campaign literature.

Speakers on both sides of all live issues will be invited to address the center, but this will not mean that the center endorses one side or the other.

Members are urged when giving utterances to opinions to make it plain to the audience that such are the opinions of a private citizen. No member engaged in any sort of political activity, shall be permitted to advertise herself as a member of the Center or make use of the Center in any manner."

The several hundred women of the Center are today asking themselves what understanding the board of directors has of the word "political." The ruling will be presented to the Center members tomorrow.

Mrs. Frank G. Law, president of the California Civic League of Women Voters, of which Oakland Center is an auxiliary, declared before a meeting of women celebrants of the tenth anniversary of woman's suffrage in Hayward this week, that she believed in political action and frankly deplored that when women were extended the ballot they immediately raised the sign of "Politics Prohibited."

The action of the Oakland women is significant in that women's organizations in San Francisco have brokered through the precedent of many years, to join in endorsing Miss Mary Margaret Morgan, their chosen candidate for the board of supervisors and are backing her with strong support. The first section meetings will be held in Oakland Center tomorrow. Mrs. Robert Moody will speak before the economics group at 11 a. m. on "Flowers, Field and Three Years After." The public speaking section will meet at 10 a. m. The classes will be in Ashmead Temple. The current events section will meet at 10 a. m. in room 137 Hotel Oakland. Parliamentary law class will assemble at 1 p. m.

Jay B. Nash, director of Oakland Recreation Department, was the principal speaker before Oakland chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, meeting this week with Miss Ida Johnston in Athol avenue. A series of talks on civics to be carried through the season was inaugurated by Mrs. E. C. Robinson. Chapter emphasis is to be placed this year on Americanization with attention to the mothers of Tompkins school students.

Manzanita School Parent-Teacher Association will hostess a dance tomorrow night in the school auditorium, the proceeds to go toward the purchase of a drop curtain. The party is for adults. Miss Rheta Boynton will offer a series of interpretative dances to the program which will open the evening.

PUEBLA, MEXICO, CLOSED DOWN IN PROTEST ON TAX

Business and Factories Suspended; Food Supply Is Big Problem.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 13 (By the Associated Press).—Wholesale suspension of business by stores and factories in the city of Puebla was effected today. It was reported in dispatches received here from that city. This would be in protest against alleged excessive taxation by the state government.

Advices from Puebla indicate the entire situation there is serious. A few textile plants are still in operation today, but were said to have closed for only three days more.

The food supply has also become a real problem for the residents of Puebla who continue their strike against the government. Governor Sanchez and a citizens' committee was expected to arrive here this afternoon to confer with President Obregon.

General Sanchez was declared in dispatches received here last night to have threatened the arrest of Mexico City newspaper men who he said were sending out or Puebla startling and exaggerated reports of conditions.

Puebla state authorities, instead of modifying the revenue law against which protests have been made, are reported to have made new levies upon moving picture houses and theaters which it is said may close immediately.

The two railways connecting Puebla and warehouses there are overflowing, as teamsters refuse to move merchandise.

WORK FOR IDLE, PLAN OF STATE, SAYS GOVERNOR

Highway Construction and Capital Extension To Be Speeded Up.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 13.—Assurance that every possible means of speeding up state construction projects now under contemplation would be used as a means of relieving the unemployment situation in California was given in an open letter addressed to the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce by Governor W. D. Stephens.

The letter was written in answer to a communication from that body urging that state construction be considered as a means of relieving the situation.

All departments have already been urged to expedite their programs, the governor said, explaining that he had refrained from giving the matter publicity since if the word went out that California was furnishing work it might cause an influx of unemployed from the eastern states.

The governor said he had urged the highway commission to speed up highway construction and gave assurance that the construction of a capital extension buildings would start as soon as the bonds are sold.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13.—The submarine R-6, attached to the Pacific fleet, which sank in Los Angeles harbor the night of September 16 with the loss of two of her crew, was brought to the surface tonight. It was announced at the submarine base at the harbor here.

The hull of the submarine was in apparent good condition, although it was thought that the engines and batteries had been damaged by the action of salt water.

The vessel was raised by means of a large tube, secured to the conning tower, through which air was pumped into the hull.

The R-6 sank suddenly on the night of September 16 without warning due to the failure to work of an automatic device for closing a torpedo tube.

"Dead" Restored to Life; Man's Mind Blank 3 Years

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—Crushed in an automobile accident and to all appearances dead, taken to an undertaking establishment where the mortician discovered signs of life just as he was raising his knife to make a second incision in the body, returned to a hospital where later he was released appar- ently cured, and to finally recover his senses after wandering about for three years in a state of amnesia—that is the strange story of George L. Fish, 47, Long Beach capitalist and inventor, who leaped yesterday for the first time that during the time he was an amnesia victim he had married and divorced a woman in San Francisco.

Fish was restored to normality by a spinal expert's operation.

An undertaker's incision remains a white scar on the left side of his right arm today. It was made in a white tiled morgue five years ago when Fish, to all appearances, was dead. He carries in his pocket the death certificate made out for him and signed at that time. He has cancelled checks which were given in payment for his funeral and his grave, and receipts therefor.

Flowers withered now and pressed in his home—were fresh and sent by fraternal society brothers for his funeral.

SKULL FRACTURED.

His skull had been fractured, twenty-one bones broken and his right arm dislocated in a three place September 24, 1916, when a big motor crashed into his smaller auto- mobile near San Jose.

He was pronounced dead by physi- cians and sent to an undertaking establishment. He was placed on the marble slab in the morgue. Tele- grams were sent to his friends. The embalmer raised his knife—lowered it. The first cut was on the right arm. And then the undertaker paused, startled, dumfounded, for he detected signs of life in the body.

Doctors rushed to the morgue, sawed up the wound and began once more their fight for Fish's life. He was taken to a sanitarium and after three months allowed to leave, ap- parently cured and sane.

But he had forgotten his fiancé, Mrs. Ruth McCloud, whom he was to have married in October of the same year, forgotten every detail of his former life. He had forgotten where he lived—his friends—and he remembered his name only because it was written on letters and books in his pockets. He traveled through- out the country, working at his in- ventions, patenting them and be- coming wealthy.

MARRIAGE FORGOTTEN.

He married an attractive woman of middle age, but he doesn't know where he met her or married her. The divorce court records show that her name was Virginia Burns Fish. She obtained a divorce on the ground that her husband had a hobby of looking women's charac- ters by reading at their ankles. She was awarded a considerable sum of money.

She is still here under the name of Virginia Smith. She passed through the hotel where Fish is staying with his present wife.

"You're not on speaking terms with your former wife" inquired a hotel clerk who had known them both.

"I don't remember of ever having seen her before," said Fish.

He doesn't know how he came into the spinal expert's office at Modesto in 1921, but his brain snapped back into place on the adjusting table there and his first words were: "My God! What—where—"

Soon afterwards he married Mrs.

These figures brought the total of the day's subscriptions to $2891.

McCloud, who had been trying to locate him.

Two years ago, came a telegram from Dr. C. F. Eddy, of Modesto, dated by Fish.

"Please come to me," the message said.

"We left that night," said Mrs. Fish, "daughter and I. My father, James A. Kratzer, a judge at Rush- ville, Ind., came with us. We nursed George for ten months before he was able to be up and around. And then we were married."

Judge William H. Langdon of San Francisco, presiding justice of the court of appeals, is an old friend of Fish. He it was who took him to the expert at Modesto, who brought him back to himself—and to me."

Salvation Army's

FIRE ON U. S. BOAT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—The United States engineering launch Sunsun, lying at pier 3, escaped destruction by fire today. A leaking valve on a gasoline stove in the galley was responsible for the start of the blaze, and John Jorgenson, the cook, and Ivan Salcheste, a deck hand, did their best to extin- guish the flames, but finally had to sound an alarm. The fire de- partment put out the blaze with nom- inal damage.

The decision to adopt the resolution conferring recognition on the Mexican lodge was arrived at after Past Grand Master Charles Adams reported that conditions in the republic are stable and that the grand lodge is worthy of recognition.

The grand lodge took unfavorable action on the request of the Masonic Service Association of the United States for affiliation. The California Fraternity has expressed the belief that the plan of the association for the relief of the general fraternity is too cumbersome and impracticable. Thirty-five state Masonic lodges are affiliated with the association.

SUPERVISORS TO BACK OFFICIALS ON ROAD WORK

Board Adopts Resolution in Opposition to Stand of State Auto Men.

The Board of Supervisors came out today against the California State Automobile Association in its war on Governor Stephens and the State Highway Commission. In a resolution adopted unanimously the board pledges support to the governor, highway commissioner and other state officials connected with road construction.

For some time past the automobile association has been attacking the policy of Stephens and the Highway Commission.

Supervisor J. C. Staats charged that the state association had taken money from auto and truck dealers, and in return was attempting to secure road construction which would hinder truck travel.

The resolution requests that Governor Stephens include in any special call for the legislature a statement for the consideration of the regulating of weights, speed, width of tire and licenses for auto trucks.

PAYORS SPECIAL TAX. Supervisor Charles Hoover expressed his opposition to a special tax or license on trucks operating in Alameda county.

"Trucks destroy roads and the owners should be made to pay," he declared. The resolution was adopted by the board by a communication from the Contra Costa board.

T. P. Witschens, deputy district attorney, quoted George Posey, deputy county surveyor, as saying that the present law, if enforced, would satisfactorily regulate truck traffic.

Although the board did not discuss the matter of a successor to former County Surveyor Henry R. Howell, it is understood that George Posey, assistant, will be appointed Monday.

E. C. Prather, city engineer of Piedmont and deputy for a number of years in the county surveyor's office, filed an application for appointment. His application was placed on file by the board.

TITLE PLAN REJECTED.

G. H. Emery of the California Brick company requested the board to substitute tile for metal partitions in the county hospital. The board declined, when informed that the cost would be $15,000 greater than the contract price for metal. Emery argued that the contract would permit the board to begin operations under conditions of unemployment. J. M. J. McDonough, president of the Building Trades Council, opposed Emery's proposition.

The hearing on the assessments in the Bay Farm Island reclamation project will be continued before the board Thursday, Oct. 20. Members of the board will personally investigate the reclamation project Monday.

The board endorsed the proposal of Professor Woodbridge Melville of the University of California that a fire patrol be formed for the protection of forests on the Oakland and Berkeley hills. Supervisors declined to appropriate funds, however, on the ground the forest fire protection is the duty of the city of Oakland and Berkeley, and should be cared for by these cities.

A resolution of respect to the late Percy Johnson, former county surveyor, was adopted.

GIRL GETS FEE FROM CHUMS FOR INTRODUCTIONS

"It's cold out here in the lot; can you give me something to cover up with?"

Thus, according to Mrs. D. F. Newell of 2120 Telegraph avenue, did a comely girl of about fourteen years address her at 4 o'clock this morning. Subsequent investigation by the police showed that the girl had slipped into the lot because, according to her word, it adjoined the residence of Paul Ash, orchestral conductor at a local theater, for whom she had conceived an admiration.

Upon the conclusion of their investigation the police returned the girl to her home in East Oakland, and looked up Ash for further explanation. The musician declared that the girl had been annoying him by addressing him on the street, writing letters and otherwise, and that but for the girl's tender years, he would have asked police interference before this time.

He added that the girl had brought her associates to him on more than one occasion, introduced these young persons to him and, he learned, collected fifty cents fee thereafter for the introduction.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 13.—Tommy Straughan, the last of the Alameda boys who left here two years ago aboard the United States Shipping Board vessel Monongahela, returned on the transport Thomas this afternoon. Harold Cook, Walter Gaddal and Dick Bordenave, the other Alameda boys who were shipmates of Straughan and who came home on the Granite State three days ago, went to the transport dock to form part of the reception committee. The parents formed the other part.

Tommy Straughan returned as a cook on the troopship.

The lads were stranded for many months in Manila because of inability to collect their pay. The vessel was sold by the Shipping Board and the Victor H. Fox Company, the purchasers, went bankrupt. The boys had a strenuous time when the dealers refused to send any more supplies to the ship they were compelled to beg money wherever they could. They slept in the public parks, only to be routed out by unsympathetic policemen. Finally a Mr. Norton, former Alameda resident, found the boys and took them under his care.

In the meantime Mayor Frank Otis and other officials kept the wires hot between here and Washington in an effort to secure an early return of this country for the stranded boys. Despairing of ever being able to get home through government aid, the lads shipped out in various capacities.

CITY PROTESTS CUT IN FORCE AT PANAMA CANAL

A protest against the rumored reduction of the working force on the Panama canal was sent today to Secretary of War J. W. Weeks by Mayor John L. Davis, who voices fears that the reduction may affect the commerce of Oakland unfavorably, and who urges that care be taken lest the ship-owners suffer.

The mayor's telegram says: "I am advised that the government is planning to reduce the operating personnel on the Panama Canal, with a resultant delay in the expeditious passage of vessels.

The city of Oakland is a terminal for twenty intercoastal and foreign steamship lines. This reduction in personnel will make a serious delay to these vessels and vitally affect our many shippers and businessmen dependent upon that service.

"This matter is of vital importance to our city and we urgently request that sufficient service be retained to eliminate any possibility of delay.

(Signed) "JOHN L. DAVIS, Mayor of Oakland."

L. Bruden, one of them, claimed that his speedometer was wrong. The judge gave him a choice of testing it out or receiving a double fine if the speedometer was correct or else going to jail over Sunday. After considerable deliberation Bruden decided to accept the latter.

The other two were Trist Spangler and P. E. Ross. Frank Marcollo was fined $10. A boy named Warren was issued an arrest warrant. L. C. Larson, who was fined $25.

LANE MEMORIAL FUND IS THROWN OPEN TO PUBLIC

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Decision on opening the Lane Memorial Fund to public participation was announced to the Memorial Committee composed of Secretary Hoover, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Albert C. Miller, member of the Federal Reserve Board. This decision was made, the committee announced, in view of the "widespread appreciation of the duty which rests on the friends and admirers of a public man to make provision for his widow, which the slender emoluments of public office make impossible for him."

Income from the fund will accrue to Mrs. Lane during her lifetime, after which the committee said it probably would be used to promote work in the field of Americanism, which the late senator had devoted a large part of his labors.

Cocoon Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, and the hair falls out. Cocoon oil is a natural product, and is very harmless. Multifold cocoon oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing. It cleanses the scalp, and keeps the hair from becoming greasy or itchy.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two tea-spoonsful of Cocoon oil will make abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and leaves the hair soft and shiny, free from dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Modified Cocoon oil shampoo at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

Ask your druggist for Cocoon oil shampoo. It is the only one that will not injure the hair.

Whirlwind Campaign Is Plan Of Students in Stadium Drive

MISS FLORA MARX, who participated in costume rally for University of California Stadium.

Pile of Blocks on University Campus Growing and Has Now Reached the $300,000 Mark

Football and baseball games of national importance will be brought to the proposed new stadium of the University of California as a result of negotiations now being made with eastern universities by Luther A. Nichols, graduate manager on the campus.

The University of Illinois has already accepted Nichols' proposals for a football game in California's stadium in 1922. A baseball game between Berkeley and Illinois is also under serious discussion.

Nichols warns all football enthusiasts that the only way in which they will be able to see the games in the stadium is by becoming subscribers in the present campaign either by means of the $100 cash payment or the $25 installments plan. In either case stadium seats will be reserved at all games for all subscribers.

Yesterday's feature program and canvass was entirely in the hands of the women students. Throughout the day they made it practically impossible for students without stadium buttons to appear upon the campus and at 4 o'clock the women donned masquerade costumes of all sorts and attended a stadium rally at the base of the Campanile. Miss Flora Marx was one of the several in Japanese garb.

During the rally four more stadium blocks were added to the huge recording stadium picture which shows the progress of the state-wide million-dollar campaign, and the Golden Bear on the student campaign pole was hoisted up to the $300,000 mark.

Students decided yesterday that the campaign in the bay region must be put over the top before the end of the week. Five hundred men and women students have signed up for stadium work and reported at 9 o'clock this morning at San Francisco headquarters preparatory to a day's work of whirlwind canvassing throughout the city.

DURANT MOTORS TO BUILD NEW PARK FOR TRIBUNE LEAGUE

COACH ANDRUS SMITH NAMES MEN WHO WILL REPRESENT CALIFORNIA AGAINST THE FLEET ELEVEN

CLIFF DURANT BACKS BALL CLUB AND WILL BUILD A NEW PLANT

New Diamond Will Be Laid Out At Fifty-Fourth Avenue and East Fourteenth St.

By EDDIE MURPHY.
Cliff Durant, the fellow who burned up times on many automobile racetracks and who also cut many a figure in the air with one of his famous airplanes, has been doing good and proper by the baseball ball. No, Cliff has not gone daffy over the New York Yankees or the Giants, nor is he going to place his money in the Portland baseball club. Just like they have done with every other level-headed ball fan, the amateur ball players, better identified as the Little Joe Bushers of the Oakland Tribune Midwinter League, have won a spot in the heart of the well-known aviator and automobile man, and Cliff is now ready to do a whole lot of big things for the Tribune League. The spirit of the amateur players of The Oakland Tribune League has taken a tight hold on Cliff, and has become so enthused over the kids that he has decided to build them a brand new ball field in East Oakland, right where all the East Fourteenth street cars and thousands of automobiles pass by each Sunday.

"Durant Baseball Field" will be the sign that will greet the cars which take a peek at a big area which is to be erected at the entrance to the ball park. Durant is ready to build a new ball field on the large piece of land owned by Libby, McNeil and Libby, at East Fourteenth street and Fifth avenue. The people from whom the land was bought are also great baseball fans and are especially strong for the amateurs. It was only with the understanding that the field be used for amateur players, that Libby, McNeil and Libby allowed the signing of the lease to take place.

Durant Will Place a Strong Club in Field

And further than securing the piece of land for the amateurs of The Oakland Tribune Midwinter League, Durant is ready to put a Class AA amateur team in the field, and the chances are that one of the teams now playing in the Class AA Tribune League will change its name. The team that Durant will place in the field will be known as the Durant Motors. Andy Smith Cheerful in Face of Adversity; Picks Team To Meet Fleet Next Saturday.

By DOUG MONTELL.
If Graduate Manager Lute Nichols had taken out accident insurance on all the members of the California first string varsity team at the beginning of the year there would have been enough funds rolling into the Blue and Gold coffers at the present time to finance the proposed stadium, erect a couple of new buildings and buy a new hat for Bob the ground keeper. As it is the Bears are out the services of a dozen good football players, an even dozen out of a first string squad of eighteen and their chances of rounding out a team together and keeping it intact for more than one practice appear to be worse than those of the much-discussed celluloid dog chasing the asbestos cat through the regions described by the late Mr. Dante.

HERRERA AND LANDON STAGE WARM CONTEST FOR CASH CUSTOMERS

Harold Emmal, Olympic Club Graduate, Gets Draw With Johnny Burns in His First Start.

By BOB SHAND.

Larry Jones and Bobby Ertle landed on top of the card at the Auditorium last night but the honors went to Eddie Landon and Joe Herrera, who appeared in the special event. The latter pair started as though they meant business and finished the same way. Landon sent his man to the canvas twice in the second round with well-meant wallops but Herrera refused to take a count and bounced right back on both occasions. Landon took the first two rounds easily but he started blowing in the third and he blew so fast in the fourth that some of the ringside customers thought a cyclone had been turned loose. The decision was a draw. Had Landon kept up his end in the last pair of frames he would have romped off with the verdict but Herrera came so fast in rounds three and four that he had Eddie tied in a knot. It was the best scrap of the night and the customers would appreciate a return engagement.

The main event did not call for much and if Promoter Simpson had sent to Los Angeles for main events of Bobby Ertle's stamp, then the crop is very short second night. Bobby is still the same clever little boxer he was when he used to four-round around here, but he has not yet learned to hit, and no banner or feather who cannot deal a K. O. wallop at least once in a while is ever going to set the local pugilistic grass on fire. Bobby was paired off with Lally Jones last night and only a fourth round rally gave Ertle a draw. Jones took the first two rounds and the third was about a stand-off. Ertle came fast in the fourth to get half the medal. The start of the fight was not at all auspicious, but constant urging by the referee made the kids get in and do some real fighting. They evidently intended boxing a regular main event, which means stepping pretty and not getting hurt, but they were finally advised that some real scrap was in order if they desired a return engagement under the same auspices. The boys took up in the last pair of rounds and gave the fans a run for their money. Jones has the harder punch of the two, but this is not saying much.

Benny Vierra Wins From Tommy Cello.
Benny Vierra put up one of the best fights of his life when he won the decision from Tommy Cello. Cello did a lot of leading but Vierra countered so effectively that he soon had Tommy's nose and mouth bleeding. The further the fight went the further Vierra increased his lead and he had quite a margin at the final bell. Cello is much too regular with the gallery boys, but Vierra got only what was coming to him when he received the decision.

Harold Emmal, the Olympic club welter, shared the honors of a draw with Johnny Burns, but if there was a shade Burns had it. Emmal came out of the P. A. A. ranks with the reputation of having a terrific kick in his right hand. The Olympic club boys were at the ringside telling about the time Harold knocked three amateurs cold in one evening with that "terrible" right. Last night he showed a left jab and occasionally a straight left, but if he knew how to hit with his right hand he carefully concealed the fact. Burns put up a regular Burns fight, jabbing continually with his left. The customers did not enthrall much over the fight.

Angelo Silva and Jimmy Griffiths boxed another draw, but the scrap was not as interesting as their last affair. Silva, as usual, was the aggressor throughout and if a decision had to be rendered Angelo would have been plenty fair enough.

Tommy Chappell started off like a Joe McGee against Frankie McGinn, but he took a tumble to himself in the first round.

Mike O'Dowd starts training for Gibbons. Mike O'Dowd, the Olympic club welter, is training for the fight with George Armstrong, the New Englander, at the Pioneer club of this city, and those two will draw a capacity house. Coast boys are doing well around here, and are "punching well" as they say around here with easterners as the "catchers."

BOSTON, Oct. 12.—Jock Malone, St. Paul middleweight, won the decision in a ten-round bout over Panama Joe Cans.

From Reform School "BABE" RUTH'S LIFE STORY TO Baseball Star.

Under the direction of Brother Mathias, Babe Ruth played every position on the St. Mary's baseball team, while carrying on his studies. Babe's specialty was catching, but he was just as likely to be assigned to pitch or play the infield. In the meantime he was learning to be a shirmlaker.

Then came two big events in Ruth's life. First, he was given a place on the Big Team of St. Mary's, the "first" team, which had uniforms, and everything.

The next event was the appearance at St. Mary's of "Jack" Dunn, manager of the Baltimore International League team. He came to talk to Brother Mathias about Babe becoming a professional ball player.

Ruth was then 19 years old. Brother Mathias signed for the big school boy to join the Baltimore club.

In the next chapter Ruth will tell of his first days as a "rookie."

By BABE RUTH

Chapter Two.

I certainly called at Headquarters when I took my baseball ambitions to Saint Mary's. All told, there were forty-four ball teams in the school, and every boy on every team had dreams of being summoned one day to the big leagues. If baseball is the sport of all-American games, then our school was 100 per cent American.

We tried football for a while, one season but the field was hard and covered with bits of stick and broken glass and after some of the boys had had a few pounds of meat scraped off in being tackled, we thought we had better go back to baseball.

Like all kids, however, we tried everything. There was a basketball team but it didn't go in much for that and there were some pretty good boxers in the school. I used to put on the gloves for exercise and at bloody nose, now and then, but I was not much of a success as a boxer.

I loved to climb a baseball, but I didn't like to climb another boy. I was a big kid and could pretty hard and I suppose I could have become a boxer if I had stuck to it. Kid McCoy thought I looked pretty good as a heavyweight last winter. He any one moving around actor got an idea when I was out in Los Angeles that I might be able to handle some of the big fellows in the ring and eventually knock Jack Dempsey for a home.

But I didn't make a hit with me. I had my batting eye and I didn't want to risk having it messed up by some ring brawler with years of experience.

ST. MARY'S BOYS HAD TO BE VERSATILE.

But let's get back to the baseball. Brother Mathias had the right idea about training a baseball club. I made every boy on the team play every position in the game, including the bench. A kid might pitch a game one day and find himself behind the bat the next morning, or in the sunfield. You see, Brother Mathias' idea was to fit a boy to jump in in any emergency and make good. So whatever I was doing, I was doing that or on the mound or in the outfield or even on the bases. I owe directly to Brother Mathias.

I think I must have had an aptitude for baseball, because when I was in the swaddling league they could never keep a rattle in the cradle with me. At St. Mary's I guess I gave more thought to the game when off the field than the other boys. I used to practice batting with a couple of kids pitching to me. The balls they pitched were not very fast but I was learning to keep my eye on the ball—I'm going to have a lot to say about that later.

If the baseball fans think that my home runs came easy now, they should have seen the games at St. Mary's in the early slugging days when I often made three homers in an afternoon. We played baseball practically all the year 'round, even in winter if the weather was good. It wasn't anything unusual to play even three games in one day. My specialty was catching but under Brother Mathias' rule I might pitch the second game of a double-header. And if a third game was played I might find myself at bat. But I think I like batting best of all.

AS A KID HE MADE 60 AND 70 HOME RUNS.
Why there were seasons at Saint Mary's when I made sixty or seventy home runs. But I wasn't the only kid who punched them out. Some of the other fellows were right on my heels. One day when we made our present Murders' Run, the Yankees look like the Hittless Wonders.

There were several of us who got pretty wise in baseball and we graduated through the various intermediate teams ahead of some of the others fellows.

I was about seventeen when Brother Mathias came to me and told me to report for a uniform as he had a place for me on the Big Team. I thought I had signed with the world's champion because all the little kids used to point out the members of the Big Team and offer to carry their gloves.

BAMBINO GOES TO CHURCH EVERY SUNDAY.
The Brothers did not overlook the spiritual side, either. Every boy in the school went to church every day unless he was sick. You heard some pretty loud cheering at our ball games, from a lot of us, who were said to be roughnecks, but Brother Mathias was there and out of respect to him, if for no other reason, there was no bad language. For twelve years in Saint Mary's I went to church every day and I have never missed a Sunday since I left the school.

One day during the winter of 1913-14, I was out on a pond near the school sliding with a bunch of other fellows. I noticed a man crossing the grounds toward the principal's office. Just then I didn't pay much attention to him, but I probably would have thrown my arms around him if I had known who he was and why he had come out to the school on that bleak winter's day. For a few minutes later, one of the little kids, always full of importance on any mission for a member of the regular ball club, came running up to me, all excited and out of breath, and stammered that a man wanted to see me in Brother Mathias' office.

AFRAID LONG DRIVE WOULD BREAK WINDOWS.
My first thought was that some one had slipped on our slide or that I had busted somebody's window with a long drive and that I was going to get the dinkens for it. There was nothing to do, however, but face the music, so I took one more running

Stanford Squad Finishes Week's Tough Training

Stanford University, Oct. 12.—With another secret practice this afternoon, the Stanford football eleven will practically complete its training for the combat with the Olympic Club team at Ewing field Saturday afternoon.

Injuries to several members of the squad make it doubtful as to the lineup Coach Gene C. Hart will start against the Wounded Warriors. Bud Woodward, suffering from a sprained back, but it is not thought that this will keep him out of Saturday's contest. If the coach desires to use him, With Woodward at quarterback the Cardinal is likely to resort to a passing game. At halfback for Ward passes Woodward is the best man on the team.

If Woodward is used it will be a toss up between Bob Schlaudeman and Douglas for one of the halfback jobs. Both of these men play a good game, although Douglas seems to have the edge when it comes to gaining yardage. Schlaudeman is inclined to go too far out of his way when he is carrying the ball. Wilcox will likely play the other halfback position. "Thorpy" Metz has been suffering from a bad hand all week but he will likely be in shape. Metz apparently has one of the end jobs clinched. Saturday's contest will be Stanford's first all-campus game of the season. Incidentally it is the first time a Cardinal football team has appeared in San Francisco since the days when Stanford played rugby against Santa Clara. The only other contest away from home this year will be with the University of Washington at Seattle November 5.

The seat sale for Saturday's game indicates that there will be a large Stanford rooting section at the game.

RUTH OFFERED CONTRACT
CALIF., FOR $800.

He was there to offer me six hundred dollars a season to play his club. I'd have gone with him just for the honor of wearing the uniform!

I asked Brother Mathias whether he thought I ought to go, and he left it to me. I was nineteen years old and unable to sign a contract in my own name, so it was really up to Brother Mathias to keep me at school or start me on a baseball

SNYDER MAY GET ALL CREDIT IF NATIONALS CAPTURE THE SERIES

Stocky Catcher Slams Out Two-Sacker and Sends Rawlings Over With Winning Run.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—Frank Snyder, the Giants' bulky catcher, poled one of Carl May's underhand twisters into left center field for a two-base hit in the seventh inning at the Polo Grounds yesterday, sending home the tally that won the seventh game of the world series for the New York National league champions.

The Giants, by winning this contest from the Yankees, 2 to 1, went for the first time into the lead in the world championship race.

Once more, and for the third time, it was a case of Douglas against Mays, and for the second time the verdict went to Douglas. "Shuffle" Phil pitched masterful ball, settling down after a somewhat uncertain one of it for the first two innings, in the result of which the Yankees scored their only tally, and other turning the American leaguers back in order or slightly fouling their valiant attempts to put another run across the plate. He was aided by wonderful support by his Giant teammates, not a fielding misplay being made on the National's side.

Rawlings winged his way around the bases as Miller and Berger scrambled for the ball, but before it could be relayed in Rawlings was across the plate with what proved to be the winning tally. The Giant rooters knew no limits in their enthusiasm and it was moments before the roar subsided as Mays put on steam and fanned Douglas for the third out.

Carl Mays Unlucky To Lose This One.

On the other hand, Carl Mays, while the loser, has to be given credit for an equally notable, if less successful, performance on the mound. The blond Missourian was steadier than Douglas, but issuing a pass and allowing but six hits to eight for his opponent, and but for a slip, most unfortunate for Mays and his Yankee teammates, by Aaron Ward in the seventh inning, the game might easily have gone into extra innings with the score tied, one to one.

The Yankee second baseman's error proved the real "break" of the game, putting on base the runner who shortly afterward scored the winning tally. The usually reliable Ward

DO NOT EXPECT THE IMPOSSIBLE.

Several weeks ago, in discussing the proposal for the Washington conference on armament limitation, THE TRIBUNE said editorially that those who were hoping for disarmament, or substantial reduction in existing naval armaments, were doomed to bitter disappointment. It was emphasized that the most that could be hoped for as resulting from the Washington conference would be an agreement looking toward the limitation of future programs for naval expansion, a comparative halt on the mad race for naval supremacy.

President Harding, writing on October 2 to an enthusiast for "universal disarmament," cautioned against falling into the belief that the nations would proceed to disarm as a result of the conference scheduled for next month. He said:

"I think I ought to correct your impression about the expectation of universal disarmament. It is very erroneous even to suggest that we contemplate going so far as that. If we can get a reasonable limitation we shall think that great things have been accomplished."

There is no substantial difference between the President's warning and the suggestion for reserve offered by THE TRIBUNE several weeks ago. Both were addressed to the purpose of preventing inordinate hopes being created in the minds of the people regarding "disarmament." President Harding is admittedly the best friend the proposed conference will have. It is his idea, the result of his labors to bring the nations together. He will try to bring to the conference the fullest possible measure of success.

Yet the President calls attention to the fact that disarmament is not among the purposes of the conference. "Universal disarmament would be beyond the hope of realization; even its desirability at this time might be questioned."

It behooves all well-wishers of the aim to reduce the burden of maintaining naval armaments to approach this subject in a sober, intelligent, understanding spirit. Efforts of pacifists and idealists to make it appear that the aim is to disarm all nations can only result in disappointment; if all the people should believe universal disarmament to be the object of the conference President Harding's efforts would be foredoomed to failure at the very beginning.

There is no wisdom in aiming at the impossible. If it is understood that the best the American government is hoping to achieve at this time is to bring the leading naval powers into an agreement to curtail their programs of great expansion, to keep naval armaments as nearly as possible to present strength, to use available moneys for other purposes, a great deal will have been accomplished. The basis may be laid for curtailment of existing armaments at a later date.

But great patience is necessary in connection with this work. Progress will be slow. The best aid of the public can be given by preventing idealists and propagandists from spreading a wrong impression of the aims of the disarmament conference.

MAIL SERVICE IMPROVES.

Postmaster General Will H. Hays says, in a general order to the mail service:

"I wish every postal worker will see to it that the daily newspaper shall receive quick dispatch. The daily newspaper is preeminently a thing a man wants when he wants it, and if he cannot have it when he wants it he does not want it at all. It is up to us to see to it that he does get it promptly."

Mr. Hays has the correct impression about the impatience of a man with poor delivery of his daily newspaper. Every newspaper organization is well acquainted with this factor in both the publishing and the mail delivery business. Every daily newspaper is obliged to maintain a large and expensive department for the specific purpose of seeing to it that the delivery of the paper to subscribers functions with the maximum efficiency. If there is a slip or a weakness anywhere, the telephone and the next day's mail brings the news of it.

It is gratifying, however, to be able to record that the postal administration is today giving more satisfaction to the subscriber of the daily newspaper than ever before. The newspaper feels this through the remarkable decrease in the number of complaints from the mail subscribers. And it speaks well for the postal organization also that the spirit of the chief at Washington is reflected all along the line to the postmaster of the smallest town and the rural carrier.

ADVICE TO CONGRESS.

Among the first of the recommendations unanimously adopted Tuesday by the unemployment conference at Washington, with a view to bringing about a quick recovery in business and permanent employment, were these:

"Speedy enactment of tax legislation, with its contemplated reduction of levies, in order that business may be promptly revived.

"Immediate determination of the course of Congress with respect to tariff legislation to enable business to decide upon its future conduct and policies.

"Settlement of the Government's financial relationship with the railways, having in mind the immediate necessity for increased betterment making effective increased railway employment and stimulation of general employment."

It is proper that these suggestions should have been placed first on the list. They signify that it is the opinion of the unemployment conference that the Government should be among the first to go to work. The irony of the agency created by the Government to solve unemployment telling the Government to quit slacking on the job is entirely unintentional. The failure of Congress to perform these urgent legislative tasks mentioned is one of the most palpable causes of the prevailing depression.

Congress and the Government may respond promptly to two of the suggestions: the tax bill should be passed within a few more days, and the early completion of the legislation providing for adjustment of the accounts with the railroad is probable. But there is little hope for the enactment of the permanent tariff law at this session of Congress.

It is reported from London that the League of Nations has reached a decision for the division of upper Silesia, the area which several months ago was the subject of a plebiscite. The Korfanty filibustering expedition, the clash with Germany and the despatch of Italian and French reinforcements to the district followed this election and ever since the threat of a new war has been imminent. Now that the League has reached a decision and is about to render its verdict, it is to be hoped that it will promptly exhibit the force necessary to enforce its verdict. Silesia has proved one of the most troublesome adjustments which the Treaty of Versailles essayed to make.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen, leader of the revolutionaries of Southern China, cables that any settlement of Far Eastern questions will be blocked if the coming disarmament conference at Washington recognizes the "twenty-one demands" Japan has made on China and the secret pacts between Peking and Tokyo. Dr. Sun has become more or less a professional rebel and agitator against the Chinese central government, but his warning in this connection is well-founded. Its timeliness is recognized by all the world capitals.

During the week one beautiful and wealthy American girl has married a French duke and one American young man, heir to a great fortune made from American tin plate, has married a Russian princess. Forgive us the tentative opinion that it would have been much better for the American boy and girl if the French duke had married the Russian princess.

Gabriele D'Annunzio, the poet who tried to annex Fiume to Italy, has declined an invitation to write a hymn for the ceremonies in connection with the funeral of an unknown Italian soldier. But he does so in an impressive manner, saying: "My thoughts of the unknown soldier silence me. Therefore I would like all tongues silent, except that which said, 'Lazarus, come forth.'"

When the modern young man burns midnight oil he also burns up the highway.

CENTRAL AMERICA AND MEXICO.

The assertion of Senor Jimenez, the new Costa Rican Consul in Mexico City, that Guatemala, Honduras and Salvador might eventually seek annexation to Mexico is of great interest to the people of the United States. This development, Senor Jimenez believes, will grow out of the refusal of Nicaragua and Costa Rica to participate in the new Central American Union.

The growing sentiment in favor of incorporation with Mexico is strengthened by the fact that once before such a union existed. When the Central American States, just a century ago, made good their independence of Spain they were keenly conscious of their weakness, and looked anxiously about for some strong neighbor which might afford them support and protection.

At the time Mexico was ruled by the strong hand of the Emperor Iturbide, who took good pains to foster the sentiment in favor of union. As a result annexation to Mexico was decreed in Central America January 5, 1822, and the people were accorded all the rights of Mexican citizens. The union lasted only about fifteen months, however, coming to an end soon after the fall of Iturbide himself. The only tangible results of the experiment proved to be increased internal strife and heavy taxes.

At present Oregon is doing all in his power to encourage the sentiment for renewed annexation. He has offered to construct wireless stations in all the Central American States, has opened the Mexican Military Academy at Chapultepec to their young men, and is showing other signs of interest in their affairs. Whether he will repeat the role of Iturbide remains to be seen.

The United States, in this matter, will probably look on with passive interest. She wishes for her southern neighbors only happiness and prosperity. How these are to be obtained, whether by annexation to Mexico, local union or disunion, it is for them to decide.—New York Sun.

NOTES and COMMENT

The advanced estate to which the erstwhile humble but always toothsome doughnut has attained is suggested by the suit that has been brought to prevent infringement on a patent machine for making it. In other words the good housewife with her rolling pin and other implements, wrought results that were eminently satisfactory; but now it seems there has to be a machine. The great progress that civilization is making is apparent from many angles.

If a campaign is to be made by enforcement officials to suppress mirth in theaters over jokes about prohibition, it will be an effort to do something that has never succeeded. Nothing is sacred from the American joker. When he isn't a practical joker he is generally a sniggerer, and his snigger is likely to be increased if it shall develop that there is a way to amuse those who are charged with confirming the national humility.

The Sacramento Bee takes account of it: "They papers have given space to a wedding in Oakland whose only feature of interest was that the Justice of the Peace who performed the ceremony was wearing overalls. What of that? Had the bride worn them, it would have been worth mentioning and with a picture, too."

What may be doing a great deal to shake the family foundation is the large number of divorces among the rich. They get wide publicity. There have been several in the recent past that have been reported in extenso, and now there is another—in the Gould clan. These manifestations are examples for those not well self-restrained that must have effect.

The case of the letter carrier who burned 10,000 pieces of mail because he was too lazy to deliver them is a disturbing indication of a lowered morale. It may not present laziness when it entails no injury to others, or involves no criminal dereliction; but in such a case as this there is a disposition to feel that some unmistakable punishment should be meted out.

The Commonwealth Club of San Francisco has struck out in a direction that should be largely followed. Taking account of the fact that there are 250 automobile accidents a week in that city, it has set about seeing if the number cannot be reduced. If all the civic organizations would lend a hand, beneficent relief would almost surely follow. It is a promising subject to work upon than prevention of fires, and affects more persons.

Hope is reviving in the Alameda breast—and in fact, in all the organisms on the continental side of the bay where it has been wavering—over the naval base. Discussion is renewed as to the Alameda site, and the opinion is advanced from admiralty circles that the new base will be built at once. Perhaps this is due to uneasiness over the actions of Japan.

That nobody is indispensable, that there is always some one to fill the vacant place, is well illustrated in the case of Babe Ruth. It is the opinion of several million more or less excited fans that if Ruth dropped out of the games there would be an untillable gap; and here Fawcett, who substituted, heretofore to fame unknown, made a home run the very first time up. The idol could have done no more.

The Redding Searchlight observes that Americans are so engrossed in divorces, murders, markets and amusements that they don't know what the new administration's foreign policy is.

It looks as though there must be a showdown pretty soon in the oil fields. According to late accounts, oil companies are going to such a pass that even the Governor is likely to be obliged to take account of them.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS.

Called to the door of his home by a stranger who wished to see "the head of the house," F. W. Geoghegan was confronted by the muzzle of a revolver. The man behind requesting him to "come out and look into this." Geoghegan, alarmed the door, procured a rifle and looked for the would-be bad man, but was unable to find him.—Humboldt Times.

Ducks were plentiful on the opening day at the preserves in this vicinity. Several limits were brought in by local hunters, and at Mahoney's Joice local hunters fifteen limits were bagged by fifteen members. Very few birds were killed by hunters who did not have an opportunity to shoot at baited ponds.—Suisun Courier.

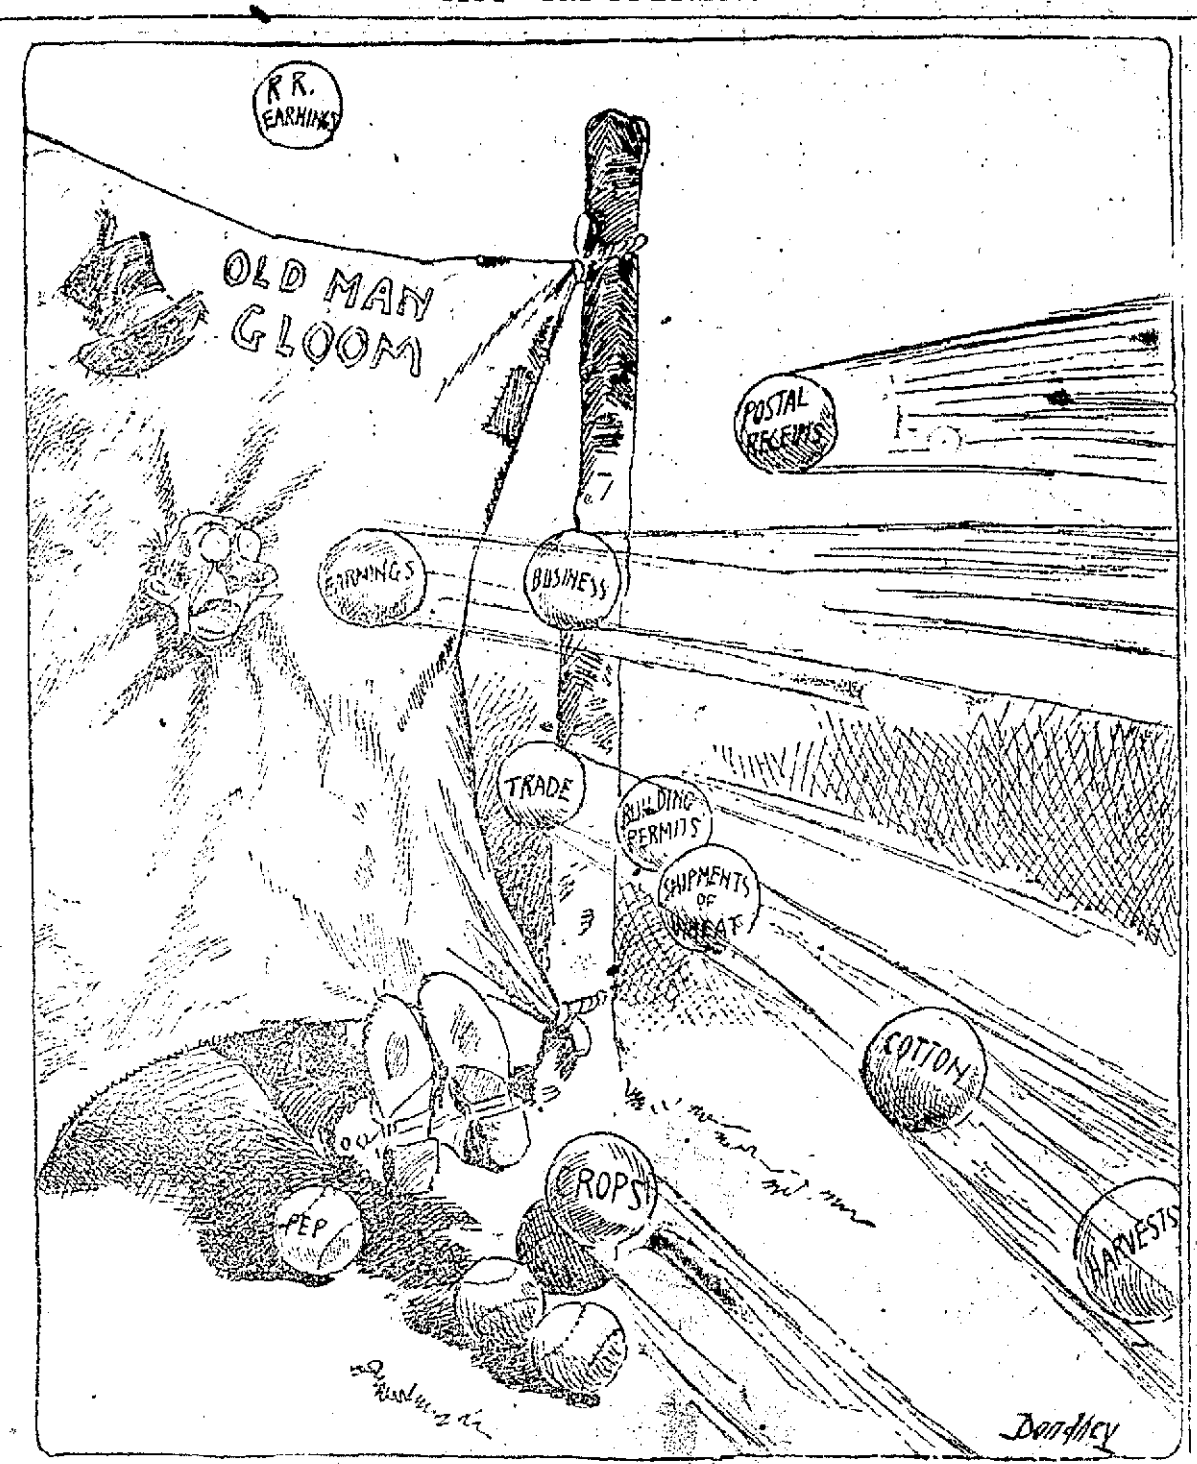

The increasing tendency to specialization in industry is illustrated in the case of the doughnut. Sacramento already has a teacher and class at study several times a day, and also know that one who is overworked and tired cannot have patience with children—if a mother cannot, far less can a teacher, and patience in a teacher means success with her class and happy children.

FRIENDSHIP.
There is in Friendship balm for every ache.
And strength for every burden man must bear;
Courage to serve him through his darkest despair,
And understanding for each sad mistake;
Safe shelter when the storms about him break;
A warm and sunny sunshine when his skies are fair.
For him the nights are rich with fervent prayer.
The fortune he has builded shall endure.

REGISTERING THE CHILDREN.

To the Editor of The Tribune:
I understand that President Harding is trying to create jobs for the unemployed as far as he is able to do so, and yet the State of California is this year taking away positions which have for years been filled by some one, and by so doing the State is imposing that work upon the public school teachers who already have plenty to do. I am referring to the school census which is this year being taken by the principals and teachers.

I believe in economy but not when it takes away a position from one who is working and imposes it upon another thus working a hardship on one already burdened with work. It is a State law that a woman cannot work more than eight hours per day, even though the work be easy and she wishes to make a little extra money either by working longer hours for the same employer or another, and yet as I read and understand this new law, it says that (not some, but all) of the principals and teachers of the elementary schools will be compelled to be at the school buildings at 7:30 a. m. and remain until 6 p. m., which means 9½ hours per day.

The law also states that parents or guardians may go to the school at any time during the day to register their children, which means that the teacher is taken away from her room and classes at any time, no matter what she may be teaching at that particular time. I understand that it takes an "experienced" person five minutes to register one person, and say three parents go to register their children each day, it would mean that the teacher would be interrupted and taken from her duties at least 15 to 20 minutes each day.

I am not a teacher, but I am a mother who is much interested in schools and I for one think it wrong to disturb a teacher and class at study several times a day, and also know that one who is overworked and tired cannot have patience with children—if a mother cannot, far less can a teacher, and patience in a teacher means success with her class and happy children.

About YOUR HEALTH

What "Psychasthenia" Is And the Way to Avoid It

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D., Commissioner of Health, New York City.

After the war there developed a lot of nervous diseases, "shell shock," insanity and various other forms of mental and nervous disorders. These were not the result of the war; most of them were there before the war. Out of the millions of young men enlisted in our armies, it must be remembered that hundreds would have fallen on land and had they remained in civil life.

When the human race has developed further, when marriages are better founded and when greater attention is given to simple living, then will children be born with more stable nervous systems and with surer guarantees of mental normalcy.

A perfectly normal mind is, mentally free. It can order the body to do this, or not to do it. Mental freedom should be possessed by every one.

In certain abnormal conditions of the mind there may be what are called "impulsive ideas," or "compulsive acts." It is said that Victor Hugo always counted the number of carriages in a procession. Some persons count the number of windows in every building passed. Others have an irresistible impulse to read every sign by the wayside.

You have met persons who always put the left shoe on first. Samuel Johnson used to touch every lamp-post along the street.

All these are examples of impulsive and compulsive ideas and acts. Along with them go morbid fears and obsessions. Fear of crowded places, fear of elevators, fear of fire, fear of burglars, are some of these morbid ideas.

Mark Twain gives an amusing example of an obsession or fixed idea, in the story of inability to get out of his mind the cry of the street car man:

"A blue trip strip for an 8-cent fare; a pink trip strip for a 5-cent fare."

All these symptoms and conditions are signs of psychasthenia. When they persist, indicating in reality a chronic state of loss of mental freedom, it may be said to indicate this disorder.

Of course, we must excuse those timid souls who look under the bed, even when it is a folding-bed just pulled down, to see if there is a "thing" under it. We will not include these absent-minded persons who go downstairs twice in one night to make sure the front door is locked. But when a calm and orderly mind suddenly develops these abnormal ideas and fears, he is probably the victim of psychasthenia. Overwork, over-worry, hard study, shock, falls, the change of life, pregnancy, emotional excitement; long-continued fevers and exhaustion from any cause, may be followed by psychasthenia.

What can be done in a case of this sort depends on the general health and physical constitution of the victim. If he comes from a family of mentally unstable individuals, it will require expert oversight to correct the trouble. If it is founded on ill-health, or mental or physical indispositions of the sort, proper dealing with the primary condition will overcome the psychasthenia. An "habit, like a drug habit, or any fixed impulsive impulse, must be properly dealt with. Failure will follow any half-way means of treating it.

Ministers, statesmen, orators, teachers, professional men generally, as well as the worried and hard-working bread-winner, must sometimes find the brain and the nervous system, as well as the body itself, demands sleep, rest and recreation. "You can't go through life on a shoe string." "You can't eat your cake and have it, too." If you would be physically well and mentally alert, you must not overwork yourself.

Fortunately, the early symptoms of psychasthenia are simply warnings. If they are heeded, recovery will be immediate.

Governor Gage's chances in the coming gubernatorial race are said to be looking favorable at the present time.

THE DU PONT HEIRSES.

Williamson society is anticipating the opening of the theater and art gallery of Mr. and Mrs. Pierre S. du Pont at their country estate, Longwood, near Kennett Square, Pa., with a ball and reception, to which, it is understood, more than two thousand invitations will be issued. On this occasion three debutantes of the du Pont family will be guests of honor. One is Miss Victoria du Pont, daughter of Mr. Bessie Gardner du Pont. Her father is Alfred I. du Pont. She has just returned from France, where for several months she had been studying music with grand opera in view. She will eventually inherit a part of her father's estate, which is estimated at more than $100,000,000.

Another debutante will be Miss Margaretta du Pont, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irene du Pont, and the third is Miss Pauline du Pont, daughter of Mr. W. K. du Pont, one of the most accomplished girls of the large family connection. The three will be introduced prior to the opening ball and reception and they will guest at the latter entertainment guests from almost all the large families of the East.

The new art gallery and theater, which are under the same roof as the new du Pont conservatory, are said to be the finest private edifices of their kind in this country. They are estimated to have cost more than $1,500,000.—New York Herald.

BUILDING TO SPEED; ZONE PLANS HALT

All Permits Held Up Pending Establishment of Districts Are Ordered Issued By City Council At Mayor's Request

There will be no more zoning ordinances in Oakland for quite some time. All building permits which have been held up pending the establishment of possible zones will be made operative at once, the city council, after receiving letters from the mayor and the Real Estate Board, adopted a resolution today directing the building inspector to issue all building permits now held up. It was asserted that construction, and the consequent employment of labor, is now one of the city's paramount tasks.

In the letter to the council, Mayor Davis asserts that the zoning matter "merits careful consideration," and that the holding up of permits to build apartment dwellings and other improvements is "not fair," the mayor says.

"I feel that the matter of zoning ordinances should be deferred, for the following reasons: The entire city of Oakland should be carefully surveyed and re-zoned in accordance with the natural development taking place in various parts of the city. The present method of amending Ordinance 806 N. E. from time to time, creating a number of separate zones, makes a logical scheme of zoning an impossibility.

SURVEY NECESSARY.
"A broad and progressive method would be a study of the entire city, by a competent municipal engineer, with an analysis of transportation, industrial, residential and other conditions. Following this study, an industrial zone could be established in that portion of the city convenient to rail and water transportation; retail districts in the outlying portion of the city on main streets in the residential districts; apartment house districts in those portions of the city nearer downtown; and residential zones established with careful recognition of the principles of justice to all our people.

"Until such a survey can be made and a logical and equitable system of zones be established, I recommend that any action on individual zone ordinances be deferred, and that prospective builders be permitted to proceed with their plans."

The Real Estate Board, in a letter to the council, suggested certain changes in the main Grand avenue and Lake residential zone, and pleaded that zones be "intelligently planned." Several instances of alleged injustice by "zone Number one" were pointed out, including a

Mother Is Badly Burned Saving Children From Fire

MRS. MARGARET SILVA and her four little girls whom she carried from her burning home this morning after their escape had been cut off.

Fighting her way four times through a flaming smoke-filled room, Mrs. Margaret Silva this morning saved the lives of her four little children when her home at 9902 Holly street caught fire. Carrying her four little tots, ranging between the ages of 1 and 6 years from a bedroom through the burning kitchen, the mother was badly burned about the hands and face and fainted twice before she had the children out of danger.

When the fire department arrived she swooned in the arms of firemen. The woman was alone in her home cooking breakfast when the fire started. A defective chimney, according to firemen, was responsible. Shortly after Mrs. Silva lighted the fire in the stove, the wall of the kitchen around the chimney burst into flames. The fire spread rapidly and in a few minutes the four walls of the room were enveloped in fire.

The four children, Kathryn, 6 years old; Arianette, 5; Mary, 2, and Elaine, 11 months, were lying on a bed in a room just off the kitchen. Mrs. Silva, after seeing that she could not put out the fire, rushed into the bedroom, seized the baby and ran outdoors. Again she made the trip through the burning room, this time picking up Mary. As she reached the threshold of the door she fell in a faint.

She recovered and again entered the house. This time all of the rooms were so filled with smoke that she could not see and had to feel her way along the walls. She found Kathryn first and slowly made her way again to safety. Mrs. Silva received her burns when

OAKLAND MAY TAKE POUND FROM S. P. C. A.

Warring Factions in Society Induce Colburn to Take Measures to Return Work to Control of Commissioners

The city of Oakland is going into the pound business. Intimations were made today by the city council that Oakland will collect even dogs, cats, cattle and goats, and take the job away from the Oakland Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

The city attorney was instructed by the council to draw up the necessary ordinance.

The move is the result of investigations by Commissioner Frank Colburn, who admits he has been wearied by the constant battle being waged within the ranks of the Oakland S. P. C. A., where warring factions contended to see who had control of the job of poundmaster. Dr. Tom Carpenter, executive of the society, favored H. W. Osborne, poundmaster, and the other officials favored H. W. Osborne, poundmaster, and the other officials favored H. W. Osborne, poundmaster.

Colburn found that on July 1, 1915, the city of Oakland delegated the job of poundmaster to the S. P. C. A., paying $500 a month. On advice of the city attorney, Colburn today reported that the city had no right to delegate such authority to the S. P. C. A. or anyone else.

"Therefore," says Colburn, "the present appointment of the S. P. C. A. is invalid and it is holding the office of poundmaster unlawfully."

Colburn immediately selected a site owned by the city at Ford and she ran into the house the last time for Arianette. She was barely able to make the door with the girl.

Neighbors who had seen the flames telephoned the fire department.

The woman was badly burned about the face and hands and fell unconscious into the arms of firemen. Her husband, Manuel Silva, is employed by the San Lorenzo Powder company.

Hammer Busy As City Hall Loses Stairs

The clang of hammers now resounds through the city hall. The city hall within rings all day.

The hammers are actual ones and not political. They are wielded by husky workmen who today started to change the fourth, fifth and sixth floors of the big building by eliminating the stairs and using the space for storerooms.

The clangor reacts with special vim upon the health office, which is open to all corners, with only a counter to protect the workers. The hammering, however, penetrates with almost equal vigor into the consciousness of the city attorney.

The building department, electrical department, food inspectors, playground department, and park board, all keep up very loud voices.

Health Officer Harry Foster, "we'll all have to take a vacation," he says.

"We are still trying to work," admits City Attorney Leon Gray, "but life is hard just now."

It is ascertained that the racket will continue at least a week, and the officials now wear worried looks.

ACCUSED OF THEFT.

Arthur P. Zumboldt, alias Cotton, is being held by the police in connection with the theft of $43 from the room of James Edwards in P. W. Hotel. The money was stolen last night. The case is being investigated by Police Inspectors Tom Gallagher and Tom Wood.

SUSPECT ARRAIGNED.

Antonio Bruzzone was arraigned this morning before Police Judge Tyrrell on a charge of murdering Gust Markwitz, an ex-soldier. The preliminary examination was set for October 20.

HELD FOR LARCENY.

DEPORTED BY MOTHER, SAYS HAWAIIAN LAD

Boy Picked Up in Alameda Charges a Stranger Told To Take Him From Island and 'Drop Him Somewhere'

Albert Francis, 12-year-old Hawaiian boy, who says his mother gave him away to an unidentified man in Honolulu after instructing the latter to "drop" the lad somewhere, is the center today of detention home officials in Alameda.

He arrived from the island port early yesterday on the liner Lurline.

W. F. Van Ness, Alameda avenue, Alameda, observed the pathetic little figure wandering aimlessly about the streets and turned him over to Jesse Doherty, boys' detention officer.

According to detention home officials, the lad is not up to the usual mental standard of boys of his age.

He says he has forgotten his residence address in Honolulu and can not recall the names of two relatives who, he declares, reside in Alameda.

The boy insists that his mother turned him over to an unidentified man in Honolulu and told the latter to "drop" him some place. As near as can be ascertained, the man "dropped" his charge in Alameda and disappeared.

If the lad's story can be verified, he will be returned to Honolulu.

"RED" BOOKS ADMITTED IN TESTIMONY

Six Men Accused of Criminal Syndicalism Are Given Permission To Read Literature Into Record of the Court

Today's session of the trial of Patrick Casey, George Ryan, John Hannah, James McLoughlin, Howard Webster and Michael J. Dunn, charged with violation of the criminal syndicalism law, was devoted almost entirely to reading into the record the names of more than one hundred books, pamphlets, posters and folders seized in the raid on the I. W. W. headquarters at the time the defendants were arrested. Deputy District Attorney Wade Snook began the task of reading and later in the day was "spelled" by Deputy District Attorney Ralph Hoyt.

Strong objection was voiced by the defendants, who are acting as their own attorneys, to introducing the pamphlets. Their objection was overruled by Superior Judge George Samuelson, whereupon the defendants asked the court if they might later read the whole of the pamphlets into the record and not just the titles of the books.

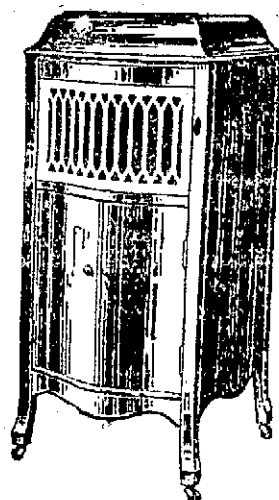

Judge Samuelson declared they were a library to do so. "If you think you can stand the strain," he said.

Former Chief of Police Fenton G. Thompson was the first witness. In fact the only witness placed on the stand today. Within five minutes he identified the booklets seized at the raid on I. W. W. headquarters.

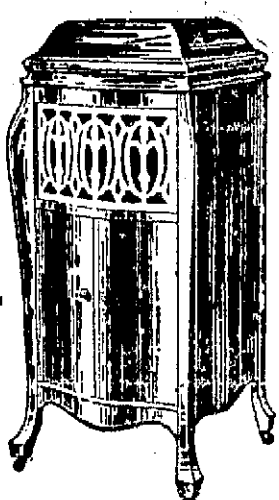

He will direct singing, while Miss Ruth Phillips will give a phonologic and members of the mandolin and guitar clubs will present numbers.

Laureate Sonora $200 $20.00 down, $12.50 monthly

There is nothing out of which you can get so much pleasure as good music, and there is nothing that will irritate you more than poor music. When you buy a phonograph you want the best. We consider the Victrola and the Sonora equally good and the best on the market. Come in and hear the new models in both of these makes. Each of our booths contains a Victrola and a Sonora so that you may hear the same record on the two machines and then make your own choice.

New Victrolas

The Victrola 80 is one of the new models designed especially for people living in apartments. It is small, compact, yet reproduces with the same clear tone that characterizes the larger Victrolas. It is 38½ inches high.

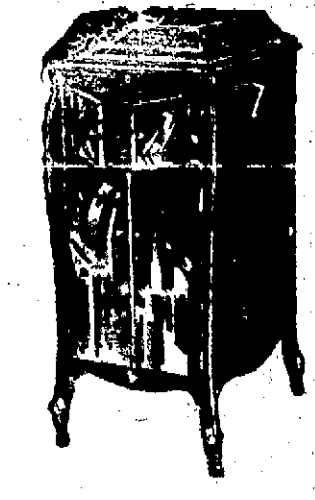

The Victrola 100 has proven a favorite to all who have seen and heard it. It is equipped with the new improved tapering tone arm. Be sure and hear it.

New Sonoras

The three new Sonora models pictured are particularly noteworthy because of their graceful designs. They are beautifully modeled and handsomely finished, measuring up in appearance to the wondrously clear tone reproduced.

MOCK TRIAL OF LION AT JOINT

CLUB MEETING

Hundreds Attend Lions and
Rotary Clubs' San Jose Banquet.

SAN JOSE, Oct. 13.—A mock trial at which M. Lion, prominent furniture dealer and well known Rotary Club member, was tried on a charge of impersonating a member of the Lions Club, was the feature of the joint meeting of the San Jose Lions and Rotary clubs at the Montgomery Hotel yesterday. Lion was indicted out by T. S. Montgomery, a Lion club member who acted as prosecuting attorney, is grossly using the roaring Lion, the emblem of the Lions Club, in advertising and has even had the audacity to put a Lion in front of his store. Lion was found guilty and the sentence suspended.

The Rotarians were guests of the Lions at yesterday's meeting. Good fellowship was in evidence throughout the meeting, and the Lions received high praise for the excellent dinner served to the guests. Music and talking on important topics of the day concluded the program.

If this business ever stops being human—

treating its customers like human beings in a human way.
we're going to get out of it!

There's a couple of hunches we've never outgrown. For instance, we're amazingly behind the times in our manner of meeting the public. We still stick to the old idea of knowing our customers personally and treating them like friends. The new technique of looking pained and bored is way over our heads.

With coast-to-coast stores—300,000 customers—$10,000,000 sales, maybe we ought to change our ways. But we don't intend to.

We're stand-patters on that one point. It's the big idea that built this business, that carried it up and on and forward irresistibly—and it's good enough for us now.

That big idea says "Don't merely sell a man

Dumfounded advertising men ask us, "Does this sort of copy sell clothes? That depends on what they mean—we'd rather kick over the traces—say what we honestly feel—sell a man on this business first—and let our clothes sell themselves.

(Which — they — do)

clothes." Sell him the big DIFFERENCE between this business and others—sell him its character and personality. Make interest, courtesy, enthusiasm your big aim in life. Sell a man the ideals and the methods of this business—he'll see for himself why Foreman & Clark VALUES and SAVINGS are inevitable.

He'll see why we offer a man $10, $15 or $20 MORE in clothing value than any other business, whether it be tailor, pseudo-tailor, wholesaler, retailer, or anyone else who sells clothes.

We believe in rendering that saving, not as a machine that grinds out economies, but as a big, healthy, human sort of business that deals with its customers as intelligent people.

Trade Upstairs and Save at least $10

When you buy a suit of clothes or an overcoat in this Foreman & Clark upstairs store—you're buying it from ALL our UP-STAIRS stores from coast to coast.

When you step into this LOCAL sales floor—you step into our NATIONAL organization.

We mean—

Without coast-to-coast methods we couldn't give you such values, we couldn't save you $10, $15 or $20, we couldn't back your purchase with our signed and written guarantee of satisfaction.

We conduct this business in a way that the average merchant never dreams of.

Only your bank and your insurance company do the same—operate on a percentage basis strictly.

Not "how much will this bring?" but "how little can we sell this for?" is the keynote of our values!

Again—if a big hand reached in and pushed our upstairs selling space right through the floor—down to the street level—it would cost us nearly half a million dollars more in rent per year—without adding one square foot to our space or a single dollar to our business.

BUT—it WOULD add many dollars to our prices.

Our only way of keeping Foreman & Clark factories running at top speed (as they always do) is to keep our retail stores selling at top speed.

That means we MUST give more VALUE, better CLOTHES, lower PRICE than others (especially in these days of canny buying).

Anyway you figure it, you're sure of our guaranteed saving of $10, $15 or $20 on each garment. Lots of men are buying double-suit and overcoat together—saving $20, $30, $40! That's good business.

"How do you do it—how do you do it—how do you do it?"—that's what they all ask when they realize our values! We answer:

Rapid shipments direct from our factory—rapid sales direct to you! No middleman, no jobber, no go-between.

We hold our retail operating costs down to 18% (the average overhead is 35% to 40%) by cutting out fancy trimmings, keeping up volume, making our advertising cost us nothing by telling truths which sell clothes.

Now get this: We never have any old stocks to clear out, therefore we have no so-called "mark-downs." By cutting out the mark-downs, we also cut out the "mark-ups." In other words, no price juggling. Rock-bottom prices all the time, on constantly NEW stocks, instead of part of the time, on old thinned-out stocks!

This is a great business! A great place to buy clothes! We call it the only legitimate institution of its kind in existence. Our methods make our VALUES inevitable. They just have to be! They couldn't be any other way. We CAN'T help saving you $10, $15 or $20 on your new fall suit or overcoat! Come in and choose it from the largest clothing stocks in Oakland!
